

TEN IN TENNESSEE

Tennessee's most endangered sites

2004 Nomination Form

The Ten in Tennessee is a statewide program of the Tennessee Preservation Trust. This program highlights the ten most endangered historic sites in our state and seeks to galvanize public support in saving our historic resources. The Tennessee Preservation Trust will announce the 2004 list of endangered sites at a press conference in November. A version of this document is also available at: www.tennesseepreservationtrust.org

Site Information

Name of Endangered Site: _____
Address: _____
	City	Zip code
County: _____	County Executive or Mayor: _____
Ownership: <input type="checkbox"/> Public <input type="checkbox"/> Private
Nature of Threat: _____

Property Owner

Name of Property Owner: _____
Address of owner: _____
Phone number: _____

Individual/group nominating the site

Individual/group submitting nomination: _____
Address: _____
Phone: _____	Email: _____

Please submit the nomination to:
Tennessee Preservation Trust
PO Box 24373
Nashville, TN 37202
615-259-2289

DEADLINE FOR RECEIPT OF NOMINATIONS:
1 April 2004

1. What is the historical significance of the site?

2. What is the level of documentation for the site?
 - Research only
 - Local Historic Register
 - National Register of Historic Places
 - National Historic Landmark
 - Other (Please specify) _____

2. Is there a community commitment for saving the site? Are there long-term goals for the site? Briefly state the goals, if they exist.

3. What is the threat to this property?

4. How could the threat be eliminated (more money, change of ownership, education, etc)?

4. What effect would placement on the endangered list have to this property? Does the property owner support listing?

In addition to completing the nomination form, please submit four (4) color or black-and-white photographs of the nominated property. Photographs should be labeled on the back and include the property name, street address, county in which it is located, and the name of the photographer. Please keep any additional materials, such as news articles, brochures, et cetera, to a minimum. All nomination materials will be kept by TPT and will not be returned. The Tennessee Preservation Trust reserves the right to use submitted photos in print and digital media and publicity releases.

DEADLINE FOR RECEIPT OF NOMINATIONS:
1 April 2004